E-Z Connector System

Installing National® Carbon Brushes on your motors and generators is now even easier, thanks to our new E-Z connector system. Simply replace the brush terminal screws with our E-Z connectors on all your future carbon brushes. The simple snap-fit connector is quick, effective, strong and provides an excellent electrical connection. The E-Z connector is superior in design, but fully compatible with most existing brush connector systems.

The E-Z Connector can be supplied instead of a standard terminal on most National® Carbon Brushes, and fits with a simple snap-action onto the National® E-Z mounting post. These mounting posts replace the brush terminal mounting studs on your electrical machines, and are available on straight, 90 degree and 45 degree configurations with a variety of thread sizes.
